

Dear CrossPointe Family,

The past few days have been very difficult to navigate. We are writing to encourage each of you and help us stay anchored in Him.

Our value and dignity as human beings springs from God's careful, loving craftsmanship (Eph 2:8-10). We are made in His own image. This makes all mankind treasured. It also makes racism, prejudice, and oppression despicable and grievous to God. As God grieves these terrible realities we, too, deeply grieve the injustices and oppression apparent in our world.

Please pray for our world and for the hope of Jesus to cure the ills we see. Pray that God would give each of us courage to proclaim Jesus and work for justice in our own lives. We intend to discuss these issues in the sermon on Sunday and pray that you will be served by engaging with that message. Until then, may this Scripture anchor us and mobilize us for His glory: "Let love be genuine. Abhor what is evil; hold fast to what is good. Love one another with brotherly affection. Outdo one another in showing honor." (Romans 12:9-10)

We love you and pray God's grace be on you and on our world this evening.
